Risks

The ILP sub-funds are not listed on the Singapore Exchange and you can redeem only on Business Days through Singapore Life Ltd. In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund. The value of the Underlying Fund may rise or fall. Investments in the Underlying Fund are subjected to various risks, as elaborated below.

Risk of investing in emerging and less developed markets

The legal, judicial and regulatory infrastructure of such markets is still developing and there is much legal uncertainty.

Political, regulatory and economic risks

Economic and/or political instability could lead to legal, fiscal and regulatory changes. Taxes or exchange controls can be imposed suddenly. Assets could be compulsorily re-acquired without adequate compensation. Inflation and deflation may result in a decline in the value of the Underlying Fund's portfolio. Tax law and practice in certain countries is not clearly established. Additional taxation that is not anticipated when investments are made, valued or disposed of may be imposed.

Market custody and settlement risks

Securities markets in some countries lack the liquidity, efficiency and regulatory controls of more developed markets. Provisions for custody and legal/beneficial interests and settlement procedures may be less developed than more mature markets. Depository Bank and sub-custodians may default. The Underlying Fund may be affected by inability to repatriate income, capital or sale proceeds.

Exchange rate risks

The Underlying Fund's investments may be denominated in different currencies and affected by exchange rate fluctuations. The Underlying Fund and certain Share Classes are not denominated in the Singapore Dollar and investors may be exposed to exchange rate risks.

Currency control risks

Certain currencies are not freely convertible and are subject to foreign exchange control policies and repatriation restrictions. The Underlying Fund's investments may also be affected by changes in currency and exchange control policies and regulations.

Derivatives risks

The Underlying Fund may use FDIs and these investments carry their own specific risks. Certain investments may be subject to greater volatility, counterparty risks and higher degree of risks. Further, futures transactions may be "leveraged" or "geared".

P-Notes risks

Investment indirectly through P-Notes are subject to the volatility risk of the underlying equity and to counterparty and liquidity risks.

Stock Connects risks

The Underlying Fund may be investing in China "A" Shares via the Stock Connects which may entail additional clearing and settlement, regulatory, operational and counterparty risks.

Sustainability risks

While ESG factors are integrated in the investment process, the ESG data used may not be complete, updated or correctly assessed.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time.

Fees and Charges

In addition to the fees and charges shown in the Product Summary, the following fees are also payable through deduction from the asset value of the Underlying Fund. Other fees and charges may be payable by the Underlying Fund, as described in the Underlying Fund's Prospectus.
